1st Annual Meeting of the Beacon project

29-31 May 2018, Milos Conference Centre in Adamas/Adamantas, Milos, Greece. http://www.miloscenter.gr/

Information and earlier experience about Milos travel and accommodation

Here some general information about Milos https://www.milostravel.com

Travel

Travel to Milos will normally be either by flight from Athens or by ferry from Athens. The outlines of the agenda are set with starting and ending times that should make it possible for those with a tight schedule to arrive with the morning flight at 09.15 the 29th May (departing from Athens at 08.35) and travel back with the afternoon flight at 16.25 the 31st May, provided flights are on schedule.

Flights: There are normally several flights from Athens to Milos per day, but the travel booking service that SKB use could only find very few of these flights. We recommend using some commercial tool to find a flight that suits you (we used www.skyscanner.se or www.momondo.se). Sky express, Olympic Air and Hahn Air seems to be the ones operating this line.

We found that arriving to Athens airport in the evening, flying to Milos the morning after, and thus staying over night near Athens Airport, would become expensive since there only seemed to be one hotel alternative available near enough to the airport. We have chosen to fly early and take an afternoon flight from Athens to Milos.

This site https://www.milostravel.com/flights.asp has some other alternatives though.

Ferries: There are ferry-lines from Athens/Piraeus and from Santorini https://www.directferries.co.uk/piraeus_milos_ferry.htm

UPDATE!: Transportation between Milos airport and Adamas and Milos Conference Centre is either taxi or rental car. It is not far. I can make a try to coordinate space in taxis and/or rental cars for those who want to.

Send me an email and tell me

- if you have already rented a car or are planning to do so, how many seats you have available, and which time and date you are arriving
- if you have not rented a car and would like to ride with someone else, and which time and date you are arriving

The Conference centre (marked on the map) is only a short distance from the centre of the small village of Adamas/Adamantas.

Accommodation

The Milos Conference Centre http://www.miloscenter.gr/ is situated on the outskirts of the village Adamas, to the south east. Adamas is not large, in fact very small.

There are no big hotels, only small ones, which means we have to spread out. We chose the very small, cheap, supposedly nice Hotel Eleni http://www.hoteleleni.gr/default_en.asp on the other side of the village from the conference centre but that might now be fully booked (they have very few rooms). But there are several other hotels, apartments, guesthouses, bed & breakfasts available in Adamas. Try searching via e.g. www.booking.com or equivalent
